.... The Leadership

Attained by this store is due to its High Standards of Quality and its ability to under-sell. It's the logical results of great satisfaction giving and greater value giving. This store sets its standards of quality so high that none but absolutely satisfactory merchandise is obtainable here. This store's colossal purchasing power enables it to obtain from its sources of supply concessions beyond the reach of concerns of lesser magnitude. This is plain everyday logic, and affords ample reason why you should make this store your headquarters for not merely a portion but all of your future clothing needs.

Men's Suits and Overcoats

SAVINGS TALKS.

A BANKER ONCE SAID that even if Marshall Field had asked him to go into a mining venture, he would have declined. But if he had been asked to put money into Field's wholesale or retail business, he would not have hesitated a minute. What course do business men follow when they want money to carry on their business? They do not seek the man with small means and ask him to invest; they borrow the money outright. Promoters know that the small investor cannot put a few hundred dollars into an established business. They go to him with a promising offer of giving him more than any safe business would dare to promise. Guard your savings carefully. A savings bank offers the man who saves, exceptional opportunities for the safekeeping of his funds. A stated amount of interest is paid regularly. Your funds if placed with us are invested where there is the smallest possible risk.

Hull-Wolfe.

Married by Elder R. B. Brown on Wednesday, Nov. 17, 1909, at the home of the bride's parents in Grant township Edna Hull and Henry Wolfe both of Grant. The attendants were the bride's sister Miss Mildred Hull and Amos A. Dorwood of Armada. Mildred Fueslein was flower girl and Gladys House ring bearer. The wedding march was played by Miss Lyda Baxter of Yale.

The bride wore old rose taffeta and the groom was dressed in black broadcloth. The bride carried white chrysanthemums and the bridesmaid pink carnations. More than one hundred guests were present.

After the ceremony the guests were seated at the tables which were well supplied with all the good things that could be desired.
The two young people united as one, were raised in Grant and are both highly esteemed and carried with them the best wishes of many when they took the train in the evening for a wedding trip. On their return they will make their home in Grant.

Phelps-Carlyle.

Married on Thanksgiving day, Nov. 25, 1909, at the residence of Rev. L. Clark, officiating clergyman, Miss Cora Phelps and LeRoy C. Carlyle. Melva Phelps, sister of the bride, and Nelson VanNorman were witnesses of the ceremony which took place at 6 o'clock p. m. The young couple boarded the train at Yale the same evening for a short wedding trip. The best of good wishes go with them through life.

Did You Give Thanks?

The Thanksgiving day just past and gone has marked an era of prosperity. All around us conditions are improving. The year past has been successful in all branches of business, crops have been excellent insuring good prices and farmers are in good spirits. Were we all thankful on this holiday? Did we load our table with good things and come to that table with thanksgiving in our hearts or did we say, oh what's the use, I've nothing to be thankful for, and go the same old daily routine with a sour face, making all around us miserable? We all have difficulties and troubles but it will only take a mighty little looking to discover myriads of things to be thankful for. Get up above trouble, hold up your head and join the vast Brotherhood which is making the world better today. Begin by being thankful.

J. F. SHEAR, BEECH, MICH., WRITES:

"I have used your Harvell's Condition Powders for over ten years, and have always found them to be just what my horses and cattle needed when out of sorts. They always bring back their appetite. My stock show the results. Since feeding Harvell's Condition Powders to our poultry they have not been troubled with roup or cholera and we get lots of eggs."

Nature makes the cures after all.

Now and then she gets into a tight place and needs helping out.

Things get started in the wrong direction.

Something is needed to check disease and start the system in the right direction toward health.

Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil with hypophosphites can do just this.

It strengthens the nerves, feeds famished tissues, and makes rich blood.

SCHOOL NOTES.

Jennie Fletcher, Editor.
Miss Lillie Shaw, of Sarnia, visited High School Wednesday afternoon.

Several were unable to take part in the Thanksgiving program in High School on account of sickness.

The football boys wish to thank the people who were so good to help them with their supper last week. Especially the ladies who helped that evening. The boys made about $20.

Mrs. Fuller, Mrs. Ed Andree and daughter Frances visited the Kindergarten Wednesday.

Several of the rooms had Thanksgiving programs Wednesday.

Paye Wight was absent from the 2nd grade room two days on account of sickness.

Eugene Irwin has left the 2nd grade. The family is moving to Detroit.

Donald Pollock who has been absent several weeks from the 1st grade, now has the measles.

Miss Van Wagnen was invited out for tea Tuesday evening.

The first grade has a fine exhibit of a New England kitchen.

We are confident that Mr. Drouyor is giving the best course in American History this year, ever given in Yale. About fifty reference books have been placed in the library for the use of the students and they will no doubt know history as they never did before. The pupils have entered the course with great interest and determination.

Many men climb nearly to the top of success and then fall off.

It is not how much we have that makes us happy, but how happy can we make ourselves with what we have.

Stanley Wilson sent several samples of potatoes grown around Port Austin to Grant Holden last week. One of the "muripluffs" tipped the scales at three pounds—lacking one ounce. Nearly all of them weighed more than two pounds each. Stan said he just wanted to convince his friends here that the soil at the point can grow something that is good for the inner man.

Chas. G. Richardson, who has spent the past few months in Alberta, returned home last week Thursday. On his return trip he visited Vancouver, Seattle, Portland, Los Angeles, Salt Lake City and other Western cities. He had pleasant visits with Grant McArthur and Edward Newell. Charley says he likes Alberta but would not take California as a gift.
